Announcing that his office in the gymnasium would be open from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. each Monday for the senior physical examinations, Dr. S. F. Herrmann asked that all seniors make appointments soon with Mrs. Edna W. Cheney in the Registrar's office.

Students Will Repair Sidewalks On Campus Day

Creighton Flynn Is General Chairman; Tug-of-War, Dance Planned

Repairing and rebuilding campus sidewalks will be the main job of CPS students on Campus Day, next Thursday, April 25. The day's activities are being planned by Creighton Flynn, general chairman.

There will be no class sessions and all students are expected to report to the 8 o'clock assembly in Jones Hall auditorium to receive their assignments. Immediately after the assembly, work on the walks is to be started. At noon free lunch will be served to the workers by Spurs. A tug-of-war between the Freshmen and Sophomores promises to provide entertainment during the remainder of the noon hour. Assisting Flynn will be Mark Whitman, Clifford Piercey, Bob Carlisle, and Al Winterhouse.

Dancing in the gym from 9 p. m. until 11:30 climaxes the day's activities. A sports motive will be carried out in keeping with the affair. Assisting Betty Hessert with the arrangements are Adelyn Sylvester, Harold Tollefson and John Hazen. Bruce Persing and his orchestra will supply the music.

Summer School Bulletin Ready

Two visiting instructors of national reputation in their fields will be on the faculty of the 1935 CPS summer school session to be held this year from June 10 to August 23 according to a bulletin just published. These instructors, who are professors in elementary education, are Miss Mary R. Lewis of Columbia university and Mrs. Cora M. Martin of the University of Texas.

A radically different experiment in the program of the session is being attempted this year. New courses, teachers of national acclaim, and many special offerings in the form of round-table conferences have been definitely planned.

Visiting Staff

Besides Miss Lewis and Mrs. Martin, other visiting members of the faculty and their subjects are: Gordon D. Alcorn, biology and botany; Margaret Craig Curran, adult education; Lotte Lancaster, French; Rowena Lung, art and design and Lydia E. Phelps, education.

Education courses offered are designed for those who have finished their foundational training work, and wish upper division or graduate credit to be applied toward an advanced certificate or a degree. Those who do not seek credit may audit the courses.

Special Conferences

To allow summer school students who are teachers to bring up problems of school instruction for diagnosis and prescription by experts, a conference called a "Trouble Assassination" will be held this year. A conference on "Education in the New Social Order" is scheduled to help teachers make adjustments to changing conditions.

Excursions to Mt. Tacoma, to Westport, to the Olympic Loop, Cushman dam, Fort Lewis, Sunrise park, and the Bremerton Navy Yard are planned.

Adelphians Give Easter Service

Officers Inaugurated in Monday Chapel

Good Friday service was presented by the Adelphian Choral society, Prof. John Paul Bennett directing; Dr. John D. Regester and Dr. Edw. H. Todd in chapel Friday. The Choral numbers were: In Wrath and in Gladness, Wiedl; Salvation is Created, Tschesnokoff; Jesus, Priceless Treasure, V. S. Bach; and Four Chorales from the Motet. Prof. J. D. With a musical composition for each of four different countries, his program was as follows: Russian, The Lark, by Glinka and Balakireff; French, Passepie, by Delibes; German, Intermezzo, by Brahms; and Polish, Etude in F Major, by Chopin.

Comparing his potential term in office to the run of an athlete in a relay race, Charles Zittel, president-elect of the Associated Students of CPS, spoke in the inauguration exercises held in chapel Monday. Zittel feels that he must carry on his work faithfully for the sake of the previous administrations which have gone behind, the future administrations which are to come, and the associated student body.

Dr. Edward H. Todd presented a gavel to be used by the president of ASCPS, and a ring was presented to Art Linn, retiring president, as a token of appreciation for his services. A yell in honor of the old administration was led by Clarence Keating, yell king, and Marc Miller and Ward Gilmore, yell dukes. Scotty Gordon led a yell in honor of the new administration. The inauguration was preceded by a number from the Adelphian Choral Society, and the singing of the Alma Mater.

$5 Prize Offered In Poster Contest To Advertise CPS

A five-dollar prize contest for the best poster write-up advertising CPS is being sponsored by Dean Raymond G. Drewry. The deadline to hand in entries is Friday, April 26, at 5 p. m. Sample posters are on display on Dean Drewry's bulletin board.

Mrs. Lyle Ford Drushell agreed to allow her Freshman composition classes enter the contest instead of writing one theme. The administrative committee will judge the different entries.

General rules are that entries are to be in good legible handwriting, or typewritten, that each one will be given a number so identity of author will be unknown, that the contest is open to both the faculty and students, and that the choice will be on the basis of general effectiveness.

Points especially considered in judging are, in order of importance, a length of 200 to 700 words, skill in presenting the strong features of the College, success in capturing the best spirit of the College, originality and probable effectiveness upon high school seniors.

Another Friend Passes — —

Dr. Spencer S. Sulliger, long serving as a member of the Board of Trustees, who passed away a week ago today will ever be revered as a true friend of the College.

The 81-year old trustee was a faithful supporter of the present administration of the College. He first came to the northwest in 1891, and served actively on the Board of Trustees since its organization. Likewise a prominent figure in church work, Dr. Sulliger has been district superintendent or presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal church for the past 21 years.

Dr. Sulliger is the second friend and Board member of the College to pass away this year. Dr. Benjamin F. Brooks was the first. Both men were important in the life and growth of the College of Puget Sound, more so than most students realize. But although unknown among the students, such men as these are the foundation upon which the College is perpetuated.

Activities Are Laboratories — —

Dr. Edward H. Todd, speaking to the associated students in general assembly last Monday, developed a new point of view for extra curricular and social activities—"The activities are as a laboratory," said Dr. Todd, "and each student enters the 'laboratories' of his choice to develop himself as much as he can in that activity. Of course, how much he develops depends a great deal on the student's own initiative, but even in these 'laboratories' students find their advisers."

The idea of looking upon activities as virtual laboratories warrants some thought. In some activities where the adviser or the coach has caused some hard feeling or there exists some misunderstanding, for the student to consider that activity as a "laboratory" and his adviser or coach as his "lab instructor" will bring about a change of attitude which will surprise the student himself.

The Mail Box: When I said that I welcomed letters from students I didn't think for a moment that anyone would take advantage of me. But here's one and it's a dare so what can I do? . . . Dear Mister Magrini: You've been slinging enough dirt around here to plant potatoes and I dare ya to print this, I dare ya! . . . Things that get in my hair: Things that get in Magrini's hair . . . This column . . . Combs. Seeing is believing: The only pupil that I can see in Teeny Russell's eye is Louie Magrini. I heard: The only drum in the Fraternity or Sorority ear is Brad Bannon's . . . Sheep. Thumbnail Description: Magrini—Fred Astaire in boots. Things that irk me: Magrini's column written by Magrini . . . Magrini's column written . . . Magrini's column . . . Magrini. Yours Truly, John Clarke.

I Believe in Miracles: It is no surprise to be able to link Walt Piper's name with Betty Betz, but we never even thought of associating him with Katie Mann . . . Margaret Munch's heart-thump has quite an understanding. Bob Gebert wears size 12 shoes . . . Janet Jennings, the Blonde Menace, and Bob Olds have been seeing quite a lot of each other's eyes lately . . . Dore Roberts and Sheldon Williamson seemed droopy-eyed, but maybe it started and ended with the Adelphean Choral trip.

Emotions and Impulses: Jane Ramsby, Margaret Boen and Johnny Clarke are stationed at the corners of the well-known triangle. His preference would surprise the alleged smart guessers . . . The Mary Lilleberg and Larry Hjorten affair is a disaster. At the Guy Lombardo event, they caught each other stepping out with someone else . . . Harold Johnson (not the one of Dorothy Daniel fame) is very much ga-ga about Anita Wayne. Too bad it's only a one-sided affair . . . Barbara Beardsley and "Clam" Johnson are encouraging each other . . . The coming of Springtime and its lovely weather brings also the impulse to cut classes, spending the hour outside chasing butterflies and picking dandelions (What a sissified way to spend your spare time—Editor . . . I was afraid of this. Well, what do you do?—L. M. . . When I was 15 I enjoyed playing with the squirrels in the park but my doctor told me that if I didn't stop, my mind would become unbalanced—Editor . . . Why didn't you stop?—L. M.).

Tattle-tale Gazette: While Maxine Hartl was away at the Spur Convention, Bob Smyth, who has a "Love Thy Neighbor" complex, escorted here, there and everywhere that little blonde that lives next door to his house. . . . Everytime Dorothy Belle Harriss goes to the International conference she comes back with a story about a new boy friend. Last year she was filing letters from a Japanese youth. This year there is talk of a Hindu . . . Signs of Spring: Mildred Anderson and Martha Forsyth with brand new coiffures.

A Reporter's Notebook: Autobiography is this department's favorite kind of reading. Incidentally, the latest one enjoyed is "The Story of My Life" by Clarence Darrow. He is most discouraging, to say the least. Having arrived at the end of life's trail, he says there are times when he feels otherwise, but on the whole he believes that life is not worthwhile . . . Things that get in my hair: People who have a mirror in front of their face most of the time . . . For a few moments with something that presents in a modern style the trend of the times read the ads in the Fortune magazine found in our library.

The Last Round-up: Franklin Castillo was dealt a 1500 trump hand in a pinochle game last week which is an almost perfect hand. Frank's been as happy as a proud father of twins . . . When they go some place, Jack Burns and Betty Kuhl's him off . . . Carl Faulk and Mae Rose Munro make a swell couple . . . Next Thursday is Campus Day which promises to be one of the happiest days of the year climaxed by a fox trot in the evening . . . Looks like CPS is going to have a capable yell department next year. Handsome, vivacious and curly-haired Marc Miller and Ward Gilmore—with the exception of Clarence "Maurine Henderson" Keating, who grows his hair on his upper lip.

Rare Old Peruvian Textiles Featured In College Museum, Opened Monday

As a result of a project undertaken early last semester by the Art club, the College museum was officially opened last Monday evening.

Much research work by club members was necessary to prepare for exhibit the numerous articles which had been stored in various parts of the building. According to Prof. Melvin O. Kohler, certain of the exhibits to be seen in the College museum rank with the best collections in the United States.

Of particular interest this month is the exhibit of Peruvian textiles lent by Mrs. Charles A. Robbins. So old and rare are these textiles that they are considered invaluable. They are fragments of mummy wrappings excavated from two tombs of the Ancon district of Peru by F. A. Hazeltine.

In addition to this exhibit, Mrs. Robbins has loaned several odd

Notice FERA

This is being written as a warning to all students who are employed under FERA whether on the campus or off. There is a tendency on the part of some to fail to turn in their work cards immediately after the work has been performed. Some have even attempted to turn in cards a month after the work had been done.

Only a definite amount of money is available for the payment of this work and each month the attempt is made to adjust the work so that no more work is performed than can be covered by the money allotted. Consequently, I am giving this fair warning that work cards, unless turned in at once, cannot be accepted, and the student will have to lose that work.

I do not feel that it is asking too much for anyone receiving this aid to report his work when done.

Chas. A. Robbins.

Honoring all CPS sorority groups, Kappa Sigma Theta entertained at an open meeting and tea Monday in the auditorium of Jones Hall.

The program, followed by a social hour, included two songs, "The Swallow" Frederick Cowen and May H. Brahe's "I Pass By Your Window," by Miss Betty Wilhelmi, accompanied by Miss Lois Evanson, and a story of girlhood in South America given by Mrs. Charles Robbins, professor of Spanish at the college. The tea table at which Miss Lucy May Spencer and Miss Bernice Anderson presided was centered with tulips and spring flowers of pastel shades.

Miss Anderson, Chairman

Miss Ann Crapser and Mrs. Buena Maris, sorority advisers, assisted Theta girls in the plans for the event, of which Miss Bernice Anderson was chairman, assisted by Misses Garnet Paulsen, Mildred Anderson and Lucy May Spencer.

Alpha Beta Upsilon

The formal initiation of three members was given by the Alpha Beta Upsilon group. Miss Esther Stuft and Miss Edith Coffman were in charge of the ceremony held in the little chapel at the college. Miss Ruth McGeehan was chairman of the dinner which followed at her home, 644 North Prospect street, with Miss Clare Cardno assisting.

An "April Birthday" motif was carried out in the dinner and program for the evening, since several members have April anniversaries. Miss Jean Fisher sang while Misses Ruth McGeehan and Marion Davis played piano duets. Miss Clare Cardno read, and a play was staged by the Misses Dorothy Gross, Elsie Taylor and Clare Cardno.

Birthdays were honored for the Misses Jean Fisher, Edith Coffman, Elsie Taylor, Dorothy Gross, Ora Willmott, Mildred Grosser, Helen Willison, Margaret Banfill, Irene Hocum and Maxine Baichley.

Lambda Sigma Chi

Lambda Sigma Chi preceded the afternoon tea with a short business meeting to announce nominations for the coming year made by Miss Harriet Pangborn, chairman, and the Misses Betty Hessert and Augusta Dickinson. Miss Betty Hessert reported June 8 for the sorority dance. Miss Helen Nicola is ticket chairman for the Mothers' club benefit bridge to be held April 24 at the Hotel Winthrop.

Delta Alpha Gamma

Active members of Delta Alpha Gamma held a joint meeting with alumnae Monday evening when the alumnae gave a dinner at the home of Miss Agnes Scott, 1012 North I street, with an evening of bridge following.

Kappa Sigma Theta met briefly to discuss plans for a dance at the Tacoma Country club April 27, with Miss Mildred Anderson as chairman. Plans were also made for a mothers' and patroness' tea on East Wednesday.

Logger Baseball Team To Face Linfield Here

After losing Friday's game by a 11 to 3 count the CPS baseball team staged a reversal of form Saturday afternoon at Pullman to split a doubleheader with the Washington state nine. The Loggers annexed the first fracas by the score of 6 to 4, but dropped the second contest, a 12 inning affair, to the Cougars, 1 to 0.

Larry Ragan pitched the Loggers to victory in the first game Saturday, while Jess Brooks, who hit a home run for the CPS squad in the first tilt, was the losing hurler in the second contest.

The Loggers meet the Whitman college team today and tomorrow at Walla Walla.

Opening its home intercollegiate schedule, Puget Sound's baseball nine will meet Linfield college pastimers in a double-header this Saturday afternoon on the Logger diamond. The first tilt is scheduled to start at 1 o'clock.

The Lumberjack traveling squad of 14 men will return home Thursday morning from its seven-game campaign in eastern Washington. Saturday's pair of games will be the eighth and ninth for the Logger squad in a period of nine days.

The lineup which has seen the most action to date, and which will probably take the field for CPS against the Linfield aggregation, has a veteran outfield and an infield consisting mainly of freshmen. Jess Brooks in left field. Vaughn Stoffel in center and Ed Burkland in right, handle the fly-chasing assignments, with Mel Miller and Alex Schwetz in relief roles.

Dan Mullen at third base is the only letterman in the infield, which is completed by three freshmen, Frank Plouf at short-stop, Johnny Milroy at second base, and Erling Tollefson at first. Jimmy Ennis, a three-year letterman, is on the receiving end of the battery, while the pitching staff is composed of Larry Ragan, Otto Smith, Louie Staples and Jess Brooks, any of whom may start Saturday.

Evanson Places Third In Swimming Meet

In the Pacific Coast Women's telegraphic swimming meet held recently Lois Evanson placed third with her 40-yard back crawl, making the distance in 32.8 seconds. Millie Anderson came in sixth in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:52.3, and she came in ninth for the 40-yard breaststroke. In the 40-yard crawl Mary Fay Fulton tied with UCLA for the ninth place with a time of 25.6 seconds.

Women who made the swimming team were: Millie Anderson, Lois Evanson, Mary Fay Fulton, Jayne Hall, Evelyn Swanson, and Mabel Wittren.

Lou Grant announces that CPS students can get a monthly membership at the Highland golf course for only one dollar and a quarter a month if they have their student body card signed by him.

Right now the Mu Chis seem the team to watch in the intramural soft ball league. Clarence "Mike" Mykland is again the main cog in the leader's machine.

Carl Rusty Faulk hit the first home run of the year in the loop.

But little publicity was given a few of the members of the Logger track team who journeyed to New Westminster, B. C., recently to engage in a relay meet. CPS took second in the mile relay and Marsh Allen grabbed off a second in the 100-yard dash.

That golf meet between Oregon State and the Loggers will be the first time a CPS team has engaged a Beaver squad in intercollegiate play.

An editorial in the Tacoma Ledger last week was of interest to CPS sport fans in that it offered the suggestion of a crew at CPS to represent the college. It is the opinion of this writer that this would be something worth while to consider.

Another thing we would like to see is an intercollegiate wrestling team at CPS. The equipment necessary to carry on this sport is inexpensive and there is enough talent among the men enrolled to turn out a crack squad. Intramural wrestling would also add zest to that department. Anyway we think that these things are worth thinking about.

CPS Track Team To Clash With UW Frosh Squad

Loggers Journey To Seattle Saturday for Meet With Husky Babes

CPS Varsity tracksters will journey to Seattle next Saturday afternoon to engage in a dual meet with the University of Washington frosh at the university stadium. The Loggers are given a fair chance of defeating the Husky babes, although the latter have a number of promising former high school stars on their squad.

Allen Dash Man

The Loggers best bets are in the 100-yard, 220-yard, half-mile and javelin events. In the hundred Marsh Allen will uphold Puget Sound honors. Allen has been performing well in practice lately and should be in tip top condition for Saturday's meet.

Bob Gius will represent the Loggers in the 220 event. Gius has improved most remarkably this year and Coach Ray Seward is expecting him to come through Saturday.

Two outstanding men will enter the half mile for Puget Sound, Mark Whitman and Bob Russell. Both have run the race in close to two minutes flat and both are expected to place against Washington's frosh.

Forbing Throws Javelin

Bob Forbing who has been tossing the javelin over 190 feet consistently while turning out will enter this event for the Lumberjack's and he too should place against the Huskies.

In the class meet run off last Thursday and Friday the freshmen scored 64 points to top all the other classes. The sophs placed second with 49 counters while the juniors and seniors each annexed 16 points.

Loggers, Huskies Play Tie Contest

Puget Sound's baseball team opened its 1935 intercollegiate season last Monday afternoon with a 11 to 11 ten inning tie with the strong University of Washington club at Seattle. Both teams were handicapped by the cold weather which prevailed.

Washington opened the game by driving Otto Smith, veteran Logger chucker, to the showers in the first inning. Before the side was retired the Huskies had chased five men across the plate. Larry Ragan replaced Smith with two out in the first inning and turned in a fine performance for the rest of the game.

CPS scored three counters in their half of the first and in the second inning took the lead with three more scores. The contest see-sawed back and forth the remainder of the tilt with first one and then the other team taking the lead.

Puget Sound tied the game in the ninth at 11 all and neither side was able to score in the 10th when the game was called off on account of darkness.

Hold Archery Practice

Women's archery practices started last Friday and will be held every day in the week at noon. Only three practices are required in a week and teams will be selected after ten.

Private practices which were started last month are being continued at the Tacoma Archery club's practice range on Wednesdays between 7:00 and 9:00 p. m., and on Fridays between 3:30 and 5:30 p. m.

Mu Chis Leading Baseball Chase With Two Wins

Zetes and Delta Kapps Also Score Wins in First Ball Games

The Sigma Mu Chis got off to a flying start in the intramural softball chase last week when they registered a pair of wins in opening tilts with Chi Nu and Omicron outfits. The Zetes and the Delta Kapps also broke into the win column, the Zetes winning by forfeit from the Peter Pugets, and the Delta Kapps handing the Omicrons their second defeat of the opening week's play.

Scoring three runs in the first inning and four more in the fourth, the Mu Chis led the Chi Nus all the way to win by a 7 to 2 count. The losers tallied both their runs in the first inning. The Mu Chis were forced to come from behind to defeat the Omicrons, however, as the latter held a 3 to 1 advantage until the sixth inning. Three Mu Chis and two Omicrons crossed the plate in this session to cut the lead to 5 to 4, and the Mu Chis added four more runs in the final inning to win, 8 to 5.

The Delta Kapps scored a single run in each of the second, third and fifth innings to win from the Omicrons, 3 to 2. The losers were held scoreless after tallying twice in the second inning.

Mural Spring Sports Begin

Delta Pi Omicron and Sigma Zeta Epsilon squads will start defense of their respective intramural golf and tennis titles this week when the fraternities open their annual round-robin series in both sports.

The two schedules, which run simultaneously, list the following matches for the opening week's play: Delta Pi Omicron vs. Sigma Zeta Epsilon; Delta Kappa Phi vs. Alpha Chi Nu; Sigma Mu Chi vs. bye. In the event that either the Swedes or the Peter Pugets enter a team, it will compete each week against the fraternity drawing the bye.

The date and hour of the matches are to be arranged by competing teams. Scores must be turned in to Lou Grant, physical education instructor, or Bill Sherman, intramural manager, by the Monday following the match, or the match will be forfeited.
